Report of the Commission of Inquiry into the Deployment of Canadian Forces to Somalia This five volume report contains the commissioner's views, findings and recommendations on the many issues specified in their terms of reference from the government of Canada. The mandate was to inquire into and report on such matters as the chain of command, leadership, accountability, and disciplinary issues within the Canadian military, suitability of units for employment and deployment, mission planning, selection and screening of personnel, training, operational readiness, the rules of engagement, the military justice system, and more. It also contains considerable narrative detail and analysis of the decisions leading up to the Somalia mission and the events of March 4, 1993 when one Somali civilian was killed and another was wounded.

The author analyses how the Surrealists utilised the tactics of documentary and how Surrealist ideas in turn influenced the development of documentary photography. This is a study of what Louis Aragon called 'surrealist realism': the exploration of the real-life surreality of the city.

A cursed book. A missing professor. Some nefarious men in gray suits. And a dreamworld called the Troposphere? Ariel Manto has a fascination with nineteenth-century scientists—especially Thomas Lomas and The End of Mr. Y, a book no one alive has read. When she mysteriously uncovers a copy at a used bookstore, Ariel is launched into an adventure of science and faith, consciousness and death, space and time, and everything in between. Seeking answers, Ariel follows in Mr. Y's footsteps: She swallows a tincture, stares into a black dot, and is transported into the Troposphere—a wonderland where she can travel through time and space using the thoughts of others. There she begins to understand all the mysteries surrounding the book, herself, and the universe. Or is it all just a hallucination?

With The End of Mr. Y, Scarlett Thomas brings us another fast-paced mix of popular culture, love, mystery, and irresistible philosophical adventure.

This interdisciplinary study opens up a fascinating interaction between art and theater. It shows how the mythological vase-paintings of fourth-century B.C. Greeks, especially those settled in southern Italy, are more meaningful for those who had seen the myths enacted in the popular new medium of tragedy. Of some 300 relevant vases, 109 are reproduced and accompanied by a picture-by-picture discussion. This book supplies a rich and unprecedented resource from a neglected treasury of painting.

Proceedings Luis E Navia

Tout geste chirurgical génère un stress qui peut être responsable de profondes modifications hormonales, métaboliques et physiologiques. La convalescence postopératoire est donc un processus complexe propre à chaque patient.

L'implémentation de programmes de récupération ou réhabilitation améliorée après chirurgie (RAC), l'émergence croissante de données de la littérature, et l'intérêt des différents acteurs de santé sont au cœur des questions abordées dans cet ouvrage de synthèse. Cet ouvrage aborde à la fois les aspects techniques mais aussi organisationnels de la RAC, avec en question de fond une chirurgie moins agressive grâce à un environnement péri-opératoire adapté et une gestion optimale de la sortie du patient. Afin d'avoir une vision d'ensemble de la RAC, les fondements scientifiques, les indications du programme, les aspects médico-économiques et les perspectives avec le développement de la e-santé sont très largement développés, et viennent éclairer les chapitres dédiés à la mise en place du programme dans un service ou dans un établissement. La mise en place de la RAC implique une cohésion et un travail multidisciplinaire. L'ouvrage s'adresse à tous les praticiens : chirurgiens, anesthésistes, infirmiers et kinésithérapeutes ; mais aussi aux cadres de santé et aux administratifs.

Can we sidestep tedious climate policy negotiations and forge a coalition of the willing instead? Many international organizations and scholars hope to spur local climate action by orchestration, indirect and voluntary governance arrangements. Lena Bendlin looks beyond the apparent success of voluntary initiatives using the example of the Covenant of Mayors, often heralded as an exemplary multi-level EU initiative. Five in-depth case studies show why, how, and with what difficulties local governments engage in this voluntary commitment scheme. The analysis identifies durability, intensity, and causality as crucial building blocks for more cautious orchestration theorizing and derives recommendations for appropriate incentives and support at the regional, national, and international level.

This book contains selected papers delivered during the 22nd Congress of L'Union Européenne des Arabisants et Islamisants, held in Poland, from 29th September to 4th October 2004. The proceedings have been arranged into four thematic sections: (1) Theology and Philosophy, (2) Literature, (3) History of State and Society, and (4) Philology and Linguistics, though quite a number of the papers were of an interdisciplinary character. The authors of the 37 publications presented in this volume represent the international academic community and present in their articles the results of the latest research and studies into the areas touching on history, culture, literature, religion and art to mention a few. They constitute various attempts to answer the following questions: What is the meaning of Authority? and What is the place of the individual in Society? The book is essential source reading for specialists and students. This book is also recommended to all those who wish to become better acquainted with the problems and issues of the Arab-Muslim world.

This book deals with the linguistic treatment of tense-aspect-modal-evidential (TAME) expressions in translations of the French novel L'Étranger by Albert Camus into sixteen languages. It is strongly empirical in spirit, and uses the method of contrastive linguistics and multilingual comparison through the use of parallel corpora. It has five main parts: the first two offer insights into perfect and imperfect tenses in Indo-European languages; the third part shifts the focus on non Indo-European languages; the fourth part deals with modality, and the last part is more translation-oriented. These contents make this book a valuable contribution in semantic micro-typology. In terms of readership, both linguists and specialists in translation, as well as literature scholars, can benefit from the contributions presented in this book. It also relates to other usage-based, corpus-driven studies of TAME phenomena, and to monographs that take as their object of study the use of corpus linguistics in translation studies.

Comment transmettre la Parole à des jeunes de milieux populaires ? Avec ses soixante-dix ans d'expérience, que peut leur apporter la pédagogie de la JOC ? L'enjeu est fondamental pour ce mouvement d'éducation populaire présent dans les quartiers dits difficiles. Etienne Grieu, jésuite, a rencontré des jeunes rassemblés à Rouen, Saint-Etienne et Argenteuil, autour de projets originaux nés de l'action catholique. Plus encore que l'action solidaire, ils ont découvert leur droit à la parole mais aussi le plaisir d'échanger. La plupart connaissent peu l'Eglise. Au-delà de l'action la JOC permetelle à ces jeunes de s'ouvrir à la foi ? L'accès à une parole personnelle les mène-t-elle à une relation avec le Christ ? L'auteur interroge la tradition pastorale de la JOC, sa pertinence en reprenant les questions de terrain dans une réflexion théologique.
